

DocAuthority selects One Distribution as sole UK distribution partner

With One Distribution, DocAuthority aims to build UK channel for sales of world's first AI-based data identification platform

October 3rd, 2018 DocAuthority, a leader in data management and protection, today announces its exclusive UK partnership with One Distribution, a leading technology distributor. This partnership, which came into effect on October 1st 2018, will enable DocAuthority to accelerate UK growth, while opening up the vast potential of the data management market for One Distribution.

DocAuthority's transformative Business ID™ platform provides a complete inventory list of a business's data in clear business categories. The platform's Artificial Intelligence (AI) engine pinpoints the business functionality of data with an unrivalled accuracy rate of 99.99%.

This solution will enable end-customers to effectively align data access controls to business usage, dramatically reducing the impact of data protection on business productivity. Accurate data labelling significantly simplifies data discovery, accessibility, quality, GDPR subject access request handling, cross-border data flows, data risk analysis, data value identification, data retention and data protection.

"At One Distribution, we seek technology partners that can truly differentiate and it's an added bonus that the two businesses have a great cultural fit. DocAuthority offer our channel partners a solution that will address their customers' immediate concerns," comments Frank Richmond, Managing Director, One Distribution. "With the huge uptake to the cloud, DocAuthority's unique offering will help organisations to easily and accurately classify their business data to minimise the impact of data loss, which is particularly important in today's post-GDPR world."

"One Distribution is skilled at creating value for both its partners and for vendors and so is an obvious fit for DocAuthority," adds Colin Woodland, head of Europe, DocAuthority. "By working with One Distribution, we're confident that we'll be able to achieve our goals and accelerate growth in the UK by building the right relationships with the right partners."
